Small Commission Paid Ancient Tax Collector

London, Sept. 29 (By A. P.). The busy tax collector of the ancient city of Karania, in Central Egypt, in the second century A. D., got about 1 per cent commission on his collections, it is revealed in two long Greek papyrus rolls, soon to be presented to the University of Michigan The rolls, unearthed in Egypt recently, are 60 and 40 feet in length, respectively, and are among the longest ever found.

In each entry the name of the person comes first; then folows a list of properties asesssed, real and personal, with the amount of the tax recorded in the margin against each item. The tax collector's commission runs to about 1 per cent in items already examined, while in some there is a charge for exchange to cover the conversion of copper coins into the silver value of the Irachma.

Dispatches from London indicate that the place is Civitavecchia, 50 miles from Rome. Some circles in Rome say the meeting will take place on a man of war on the high seas, while others maintain a yacht will be used. Still others think that the conference will be on shore.

The Associated Press learned tonight that the meeting will not take place aboard a man of war. A yacht is being kept in readiness for the premier, however, if he should need it to reach Sir Austen at sea.

BUTLER OPTIMISTIC ON ELECTION AFTER

the November elections was voiced Senator William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Re-publican national committee, yes-terday following two conferences at the White House with Presiden Coolidge. Organization of the next Senate and House, he said, would be safely in Republican hands.

Senator Butler said early in a conference with newspaper men that the paramount issue of the Republican campaign would be "pros-perity," in line with the White House keynote. At the close of the interview, when he had been pressed to state whether or not a rote of confidence in Coolidge would be an issue, he said: "Personally, I think every Republican ought to support the President."

Butler expressed the opinion that prohibition would not figure prominently in the election; that there vere other and more important issues. He acknowledged it probably would come to the fore in his own campaign in Massachusetts, but said he would reserve the statement of his position for use on the tump.

Massachusetts No Exception. Massachusetts, he said, will be no exception to the rule that "prosperity" will be the issue. He said prosperity was not a question of individuals or isolated industries and that symptoms as a whole showed Massachusetts prosperous. The textile industry he said, was improving and there was less unemployment than there had been.

"Poorts which have reached me said Butler in his formal tatement, "from various States, which I have confirmed, are most cheering and satisfactory. Our xception to the rule that "pros

The statement of Senator Butler was thought to indicate that some action to ease off this pressure might be taken by the next Congress. Any such action depends, of course, on the control which the Republicans are able to exercise over the next Congress. If the control of either the Senate or House or, both is taken

There are strategists within the party, therefore, who think that the Republican position will be strengthened if the issue is met before the election, dependent, of course, on the section of the country which these men represent and the pressure for tariff relief that they are feeling from their constituents.

MILLS RUN PART TIME PARTY LEADER ASSERTS

Declares President Coolidge Is Anxious to Keep Aloof From Political Battle.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 29 (By A. P.) .- The prediction of "soup kitchens" in New England cities to feed factory workers this winter and severe criticism of the Republican campaign issue of nationwide prosperity, were made in a Educator, 87 Years Old, Had statement issued here today by United States Senator P. G. Gerry, national chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee. The statement declared:

"It is significant that President Coolidge is now very anxious to be regarded as outside the cam-paign. Several days ago Senator Lawrence C. Phipps, national chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, an-nounced that 'the sole issue' this year was whether the electors dige or not.

"Then be ained with President Yesterday Senator Phipps made a new statement of the campaign issues and the fate of Mr. Coolidge was not mentioned among them. Is it too much to suppose that Mr. Coolidge told Senator Phipps he did not want his fate determined by elections that give every prom-ise of resulting in a Democratic landslide?"

Senator Gerry's statement said here was no basis of fact for the claim of nation-wide prosperity substituted by Senator Phipps and his friends for the defunct 'Coolidge issue.' "

"They are the typical stock in rade of the professional booster," Senator Gerry said.

He asserted that the mention of

New England specifically as a sec-tion of the country "where every-body is at work and trade is exbody is at work and trade is expanded," as Senator Phipps did, is typical of the recklessness of the Republican assertions. The statement said there was scarcely a mill in New England not running on short time or "trying to reduce wages as did the Amoskeag mills last week with its several thousand employes."

new French machines will shortly be brought to Washington, it is said, that a study may be made of the methods by which French ingenuity has apparently solved the problem.

Principle Is Not New.

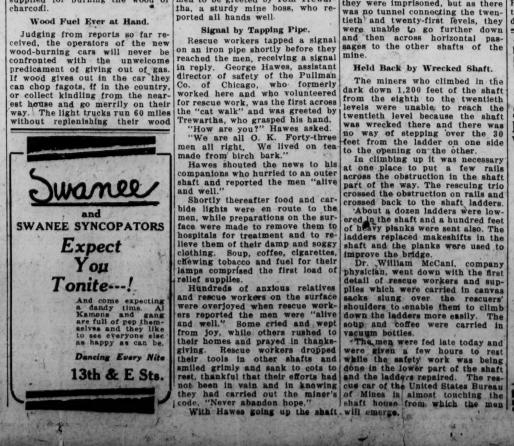

There is no new principle involved in using wood or charcoal instead of gasoline, experts of the bureau of standards declare. But the successful application of this wood-burning principle to a vehicle as small as an automobile and the elimination of the handlcaps which have so far obstructed the French in their work mark a revolutionary sign of progress, according to those who have been following the work. French war office recently asked for bids for motor trucks to be operated with charcoal fuel.

The inception of France's interest in finding a substitute for gasoline came from the world war and the fact that France imports all her gasoline and has made the subject a continuous matter of military interest. In England, during the war, experiments were made in driving experiments were made in driving trucks with illuminating gas car-ried in collapsible balloons, and the experiments are understood to have been partially successful.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 29 (By A. P.).—A glimpse into huge financial deals was given here today by L. F. Loree, chairman of the boards of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the Kansas City Southern railroads, textifying at an Interstate Com-of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the Kansas City Southern railroads, testifying at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the proposed merger of these two lines with the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway. Mr. Loree continued the recital of his plans for combining the three roads, which he began yesterday.

When the Kansas City Southern purchased 35,000 shares of Katy stock, Mr. Loree said it was necessary for the purchaser to borrow $5,000,000 from Bankers Trust Co. of New York, and $1,830,000 from Lomberg, Tholman & Co., of New York. The balance of the $11.625,000 purchase price had come from funds which the Kansas City Southern had on hand.

The imprisoned and starved miners were found "alive and well" to dark the store or apparatus with fuel. George K. Burgess, director of the bureau of standards, is interested in knowing how sufficient wood can be carried without, increasing inconvenience of passengers. As a matter of fact, the experts at the bureau are not yet convinced that the French intends to apply the new wood-burning cars to passenger carrying. Reports concerning machines ready for the market mention heavy auto-buses and light trucks but not; passenger automobiles.

It is said at the bureau, however, that the new French invention might easily be applicable to any make of automobile, providing the necessary changes in generator and carbureter were made and a means supplied for burning the wood or charced.

"A PARADOXICAL CAMPAIGN."

Senator Bayard, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, has so little to do in connection with Democratic finances that he is also serving as acting chairman of the Democratic speakers' bureau. There is more speech than finance in Democratic circles, apparently. Mr. Bayard has issued a statement which very properly arraigns the Republican party for inconsistency. "It seems to me." he says, "that the Republicans are carrying on what might be styled a paradoxical campaign." He ventures the suggestion that when the Democratic speakers have stated all the facts the people will throw paradoxes out.

It is a grievous thing to be charged with paradoxy. Republicans must clear themselves of this damning charge if they can, and if they can not, then they must try to prove that paradoxy is an advance in political thought-a new invention worked out solely by Republican genius, like a supergasoline that will make a Ford car do the work of a locomotive. If they can make paradoxy fashionable, perhaps the Democracy will copy it; and already there are signs that Democrats like a little paradoxy in theirs, occasionally.

One of the paradoxes which Senator Bayard in his good-heartedness does not mention is the tendency of certain Republican senators who have been thick-and-thin "Coolidge men" to insist that the overshadewing issue in this campaign is "Calvin Coolidge, and nothing else," while the unofficial spokesman insists that the issue is prosperity, and nothing else.

Naturally, a sonator whose own powers and achievement are open to discussion, if not impeachment, is anxious to profit by the popularity of President Coolidge. If such a senator show that he had no independence whatever, but always voted as he thought the man in the White House would want him to vote, he reasons that perhaps the voters who admire Coolidge will vote for a senator who has subordinated his own convictions, if he had any, to those of the President.

Unfortunately for such aspirants, the voters do not necessarily transfer their admiration for Mr. Coolidge to all persons who advertise their devotion to him. Popularity is nontransferable. If Mr. Coolidge were to make a point of insisting that the voters should reelect candidates specified by him he would be taking over the weaknesses and disqualifications of many men in many States, and the defeat of these candidates would be a defeat for him. He will not make this mistake.

If a candidate for the United States Senate is not in himself a capable public servant, independent enough to do his own thinking and voting, he does not deserve to be in the Senate. The fact that his political ideas coincide with those of President Coolidge is to his credit, if he is a Republican, but it is not a sufficient reason for electing him to the Senate.

The campaign in each State should be fought on the merits of candidates as well as upon the issues that thrust themselves to the front. Voters are very independent nowadays and will exercise the right to judge a candidate by what he is, not by his record of voting always as he thinks the President would like to have him vote.

CIGARETTES AND MOTOR CARS.

The report of the commissioner of internal revenue for the last fiscal year will prove a poor argument for those dealers who propose to appeal to Congress for the abolition of the Federal tax on automobiles. Aside from the receipts from income taxes, the bulk of the income of the internal revenue is largely "miscellaneous receipts." Under this head are included the returns from cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and snuff, capital stock taxes on corporations and taxes on automobiles.

The average citizen, if he ever gave the subject a thought, would naturally assume that Michigan, which, in the manufacture of automotive vehicles, easily outranks any other State in the Union, contributes to the revenues from taxes on cars and trucks a far larger sum than is paid into the Treasury from any Southern State upon any single product. It would surprise that citizen to learn that North Carolina, which is the center of the cigarette manufacturing industry, bought revenue stamps during the year ended June 30 last to the total value of $149,637,306, which were attached to the boxes and packages of cigarettes made in that State. During the same period Michigan paid only $89,530,800 in autonobile taxes.

How then can Congress consent to wipe out the tax on automobiles until the burden of taxation is removed from the shoulders of the cigarette smokers? While the roads division of the Department of Agriculture figures that there is one automobile to every six inhabitants, it must not be forgotten that the taxes have been paid on the twentymillion cars already produced. Smokers ignrettes vastly outnumber the car owners. ides, it is the future cigarette that must essential to the smokers' existence. Therefore Congress should relieve the manufacturers of cry of the Wolverine.

THE COTTON PROBLEM.

The steady decline in the value of the cotton crop has brought great distress throughout the South, and a movement is on foot to devise a method for relieving the situation. Not since 1922, when the average price reached the low figure of 12 cents per pound has the staple sold as far below the cost of production as it is selling today, which is around 14 cents. While the estimates of the Department of Agriculture indicate a total crop of 15,810,000 bales for the season of 1926 as against 16,103,679 bales in 1925, the trend of the price is steadily downward. This is due to the fast that a very large portion of the crop of 1925 was carried over into the present season, combined with the indisposition of the spinners to aid the market by purchases for future use

Some of the spokesmen for the cotton growers insist that the cost of production is in the neighborhood of 24 cents per pound, and that as a consequence the sale of stocks on hand at present prices would involve a loss to growers of upward of $700,000;000. doubtless is an exaggeration, as the Department of Agriculture computes the average cost of making a bale of cotton to be $90, or 18 cents per pound, and this computation is based upon the reports of costs submitted by 1,405 planters throughout the States which grow the staple.

It is now proposed to bring about an agree ment whereby there will be a radical change in the farming methods of the South based upon crop diversification and an ironclad promise on the part of planters to curtail the planting in 1927. A syndicate of bankers is reported to be willing to advance the necessary funds to enable the growers to hold off the sale of their crops under agreement to curtail the crop of next year. The base of this tentative plan is that these bankers will advance 75 per cent of the present market value of the holdings of the planter who will agree to plant no cotton whatever next year, with a smaller percentage of loans upon the holdings of others who will pledge themselves to reduce their acreage.

In the meantime Texas bankers have of fered to advance $50 per bale on 1,000,000 bales of the crop of that State, with interest at 6 per cent. New York bankers offered to aid the loan, but the offer was declined.

It is generally agreed that before the movement in aid of the growers can be brought to a head the planters will be required to enter into a binding agreement to curtail production. But this is easier said than done. Many planters could not curtail production if they would, and others would not if they could Their ultimate salvation depends upon diversifying their output, so that their lives would not depend solely upon cotton.

THE WORLD SERIES.

The American league season closed vesterday with the Washington team intrenched in fourth place and entitled to a small slice of the world series money. A year ago when the season ended the Nationals were still possessors of the proud title of world champions and for the second time won the pennant in the junior organization of the big league. They were flung from their high estate by the Pirates, who, like their friendly enemies of a year ago, also have skidded and must be satisfled with third place.

Just what caused the slump of the Nationals is a question that can best be answered by the technical experts. Even the layman however, knows that much of the disaster is due to the increasing years of those veterans Johnson and Coveleskie and their inability to sustain the pace that made them stellar performers in the baseball world. The club as a whole got off to a poor start, and it was not until midsummer that it obtained a footing in the first division. The "breaks" went against the Nationals; and that, from the viewpoint of the fan, explains everything.

Next year holds out the promise of better things. The slugging the past season was above the average, but those who have studied the capability of the new blood that has been injected and are familiar with the doings of those who have gone through the doldrums of the last year, predict that Washington next year will have the fastest team in the league Let us hope this prediction will be verified Rain wiped out the double-header scheduled for yesterday in Philadelphia. Had Washington won both games the contending teams would have tied for third place; had Washing ton lost both, her title to fourth place still would remain good. WOOD FOR MOTOR FUEL.

From France comes news of a new automotive fuel which, if as practical as indications lead one to believe, is revolutionary. Parisian press contains announcements of the Berliot company offering for public sale a gasolineless wood-burning automobile, apparently tried and proved. Recently it is said. motor bus of this type made a complete circuit of France, over 3,000 miles, at a fuel cost of only $15.

Rumors of continental production of a mo or utilizing as fuel matter other than gaso line have been current for some time. stories have been accepted with skepticism however the feeling having been that while ossible of invention, such a device would be only a mechanical toy. The Berliot announce ment sets at rest such rumors. Here is a machine in which the manufacturing company has sufficient confidence to place in the hands of the public, where it can have, at best, only amateur service and repair.

The fuel utilized is simply wood or char coal, heated to a high temperature in a special device attached to the left running pard of the car. The high temperature con verts the wood into gas, which is transfe tor, and exploded in exactly the same manne as gas from a liquid fuel. Light motor trucks can run a distance of 60 miles with one fuel the Old North State before listening to the charge, at a cost 80 per cent less than at present.

spectacle of the driver of a machine The stalled for lack of fuel, gathering twigs and branches to enable him to proceed to the next woodpile would be amusing. If generally adopted, the family question who will carry away the automobile ashes and shake down the grate is sure to become pressing. The question of future cost of a berry box, when wood becomes valuable as an automotive fuel, may become serious. Full details of this mechanical marvel will be awaited with

CANADA PROTECTS ITSELF.

The Canadian minister of customs and excises has put into force a new regulation governing the import duties on foreign fruits and vegetables into Canada. Customs collectors are authorized to impose what is called a special or "official" valuation on all foreign fruits and vegetables. If the foreign invoice or export value is more than 5 per cent less than the domestic value in the country of export, an additional assessment equal to the difference between the export valuation and the "fair market value" in Canada is to be imposed, the total duty not to exceed 15 per cent of the valuation.

This ruling is in accordance with Canada's antidumping law. It is essentially the same principle as that embodied in the United States antidumping law. Its purpose is to protect Canadian fruit and vegetable growers against unfair competition. No country can afford to make itself the dumping-ground of goods which are deliberately undervalued. American fruit and vegetable growers have no legitimate cause to complain against the Canadian ruling.

FORESTALLING CANCER.

More than 'w of the world's leading authorities on cancer met recently at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., for a four-day session, the exowning result of which was publication of a ingle statement on cancer, containing the complete basic knowledge of the disease upon which the experts agreed. Designed both for the medical profession and the public, the document is regarded as the most important pronouncement of its kind ever made.

Of chief interest to the public is the state ment that cancer for all practical purposes is neither contagious, infectious nor hereditary although a certain predisposition or susceptibility is apparently transmissible through inheritance. However, there is no reason to fear if a parent or parents or other members of a family have suffered from cancer that it will appear in succeeding generations.

It is also announced in the statement that cancer frequently can be cured, provided it is discovered and treated by competent physicians in its early stages. The cure of the disease depends upon discovering the growth before it has done irreparable damage to vital parts of the body and before it has spread to other parts. The only forms of treatment thus far justified by experience and observation de pend on surgery, X-rays and radium.

It is to be hoped that the statement formulated at Lake Mohonk will help to make individuals vigilant in dealing with symptoms of this dreadful disease.

Freeman Johnson is engaged in the clothing business in Rochester, N. Y. Johnson is a full blood Seneca Indian. Last Friday he was installed as sachem of the Wolf Clan of the Senecas. Long before the white women of New York State enjoyed the blessings of suffrage Indian women alone enjoyed the right to select the sachems of their clans. When Thomas Poodry died recently, leaving the office vacant, the women of the clan selected his brother Edward, as his successor But the council of chiefs decided that as Edward had shown no interest whatever in the election, whereas Johnson had conducted a vigorous campaign, Johnson was the better man, and he gets the place. This ought to convince the white voters of New York State that it pays to take an interest in politics.

The suggestion made recently in the auto nobile section of The Post, looking to the abatement of the offensive and dangerous practice of truck drivers in "hogging the road," is worthy of notice by every person victimized by these drivers. When a pedestrian or motorist suffers from the aggression of truck drivers, who take advantage of the size of their machines to terrorize others, let the number of the truck be taken and the owner notified of the act of his employe. Owners of commercial vehicles do not countenance such actions, and they would soon put a stop to the nuisance if they were made aware of the misbehavior of

It was not a mouse that was born of the labor of the mountain of ice known as the "Grasshopper glacier," in Montana, but a shrew. Grasshoppers by the thousand have been melted out of that mountain, but the tiny shrew is the first mammal ever evacuated from the frozen mass. Vernon Bailey, chief field naturalist of the biological survey, will endeavor to ascertain the probable period during which the little animal flourished, and thereby may be enabled to approximate the date when the grasshoppers, whose presence in the glacier have created so much wonder, were caught in the prehistoric storm that encased them in the ice.

The Worst Story I Heard Today-By Will Rogers

Children stories are, I think, just about the most natural stories there is. If they got anything in their minds it comes out. They don't hold back anything. Here is a new Kid one for you that is a whizz. A little boy came home one day and said to his Mother that he had taken up Physiology at school.

"Well," gaid the Mother, "what did they learn you about the human body?"
"It's divided into three parts," her son replied. "First is the cranium, where the brains are, if any. Then the Thorax, in which are the lungs, the Liver and the Lights; and last the abdomen in which are the intestines, A. E. I. O. U. and sometimes W and Y."

Floating about each sun and held in check by it, they saw millions of worlds like ours, each peopled by millions of men-some by men whose progress had been slow and who yet were governed by the instincts and the ethics of the jungle, some by men who were heirs to many millions of years of civilization and who now were cleansed of malice and greed and fear,

They saw something more than these peopled worlds also, for they possessed reason.

They saw back of the worlds and the suns that held them in check and the universe of which the suns were units, an Intelligence and a Power sufficient to create and order and maintain the whole.

They talked to one another, speaking loudly to overcome the roar of the surf and the whispering of the trees. You may suppose that they employed speech to express their awe and their humility and their eager ness to know more of the vast body of undiscovered truth.

But they did not. They were quarreling. One asserted that man was made of dust in a moment; the other that man was made of dust in a million years. They fought and fell in the sea and were drowned. The suns in their march through space were not affected.

Also the thanks of Congress should be ex-tended to Secretary Wilbur.

Saint's Rest, Va., Sept. 22.

You Can't Stop 'Em! To the Editor of The Post-Sir: How in blue blazes can you have the nerve to pat the Secretary of the Navy on the back for stopping us say on the back for stopping us fellows from having a little fun with the mits? It seems to us fellows down in the yard that instead of slobbering all over Mr. Wilbur because he won't let us put up our dukes, even when we wear eight-ounce gloves, you might be saying something to help us get gist must submit to in license and back the privilege of tapping the inspection, due in part to the multi- claret of the boob who thinks we inspection, due in part to the multi-plicity of his trade, according to Nation's Business: As special taxes or license fees he pays in one the Navy" in all rot, and you know it. If the Secretary wants to see year $6 as apothecary, $6 as retail dealer in opium. &c.; $12 as cigar dealer, $25 as retail dealer in how a boxing match affects our boys in the navy he should see one dealer. $25 as retail dealer in liquor and $18 for running a restaurant—$67 in special taxes and fees for running a drug store! The fee of $18 for "running a restaurant" means selling ice cream.

Regarding inspections by goods.

Loyalty to Law.

To the Editor of The Post-Sir: A wet writer refers to the eighteenth amendment as meaningless inspector for the fountain about once a year. He has a contract postoffice branch which gets about eight inspections in a year. since by no possible stretch of the imagination could be be briefing the case of the drys. And, be-The greatest value of the school sides, the eighteenth amendme standing alone, is vitally meaning-ful not only to the drys, but to ev-ery other loyal American citizen. But even the most casual observer savings system conducted by the amount of money saved as much knows that law was meaningless to the wets in the whisky rebellion under Washington; in the whisky outbreak in Missouri under Grant, and in the open flouting of the regulations under license when they sold on Sunday, during forbidden hours, to minors, to drunkards, and, in short, flouted every law ever made to curb the greedy rapacity of those who coin the craving to the drunkards and drunkards and the court of the craving to the drunkards and the court of the craving to the drunkards and the court of the craving to the craving to the craving the court of the craving the c pacity of those who coin the craving for the drug alcohol into profits.

Loyalty to law, as was recently stated by the attorney general of a Canadian province, is unknown to the booze business—even in law-abiding Canada. The Volstead act, by the oft-repeated boasts and threats of the wets, is to them meaningless, except when the enforcement officers cannot be outwitted, bribed, bullied or shot.

To the wets all law is meaningless which relies upon loyalty to their country and the flag. Only when translated into terms of the grasp the meaning of law.

Everybody likes our baby ~ AMERICAN GAS/

The Motor Gasoline That IS Different

There isn't a dissenting voice. AMERICAN GAS, that new baby of ours, has been received by Washington motorists with open arms.

They like its looks—the bright ORANGE color that makes it stand out from the crowd. They like the way it works—the smooth, even, constant power it puts at the command of the man at the wheel.

They like the quick way it answers when they call for a snappy spurt to pull through a traffic jam. In fact they like our new baby—AMERICAN GAS—just as much as do the proud parents.

You'll like AMERICAN GAS as soon as you meet it. Roll up to the first Yellow and Black Pump with the AMERICAN GAS Globe—tell the man at the pump how much you'll need—and the ORANGE colored 'AMERICAN GAS will start making a new and lasting friend.

Costs no more than other regular motor gasolines

Sanitary Bureau Library Dedicated; Coolidge to Receive Delegates Today.

Closer cooperation in health neasures throughout the Americas expected to result from the first Pan-American conference of na-tional directors of public health that concluded its three-day session n the Pan-American Union building yesterday.

Eradication of plagues through an intensive study of its spread by rats was one of the phases of the inter-American fight against disease, in which the public health officials pledged themselves to cooperate at the session yesterday. Careful scientific tests will be made

Careful scientific tests will be made of the manner in which rats carry plagues from infected ports to ports of other American republics.

All ships engaged in international commerce will be rat-proofed as a means of prevention of disease spread, under plans indorsed by the delegates. The great economic saving resulting from rat-proofing vessels in the United States was pointed out at the conference and it is probable that similar methods as probable that similar methods as gram of work laid out by the sis-ter republics.

Library Is Presented

One of the features of the closing day of the conference was the foundation and dedication of a library to the Pan-American sanitary bureau. Books were presented by the delegates at the ceremony held in the patio of the Pan-America Union building with Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, chief of the United States public health service and president of the conference, presiding.

A reception was held at the Pan-American Union building last night by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, in honor of the delegates. Music was furnished by the United States Marine orchestra and a buffet supper was served fol-lowing the reception. The palatial home of the Pan-American union was decorated with orange and red dahlas and palms and other greens.

The delegates will be received by the President and Mrs. Coolidge at the White House this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The health directors will remain in the city for the rest of the week to attend the sessions of the International Union Against Tuberculosis, after which they will for the preparation of educational motion pictures which will be prepared under the direction of the direction of the direction of the director of the United States public exposition.

SIGNAL CORPS PIGEON RACE ON TOMORROW

Will Fly 189 Miles to Ft. Monmouth in Fall Elimination Contest.

The fall elimination contest for building tomorrow before the race. Radio reports will be sent to Washington from Fort Monmouth as the birds finish. William F. Dismer, of this city, president-elect of the American Racing Pigeon association, and other association officers, will assist Gen. Saltzman at the start. The last pigeon derby, April 14, was won over the same course by "General Pershing," yeteran flying pigeon, in 5 hours 40 minutes.

Indicative of the appreciation of the importance of sanitation in the South American republics, a cable-gram was received from Colombia stating that that government recently had appropriated $11,000,000 for sanitary work.

Consideration was given yesterday to the program for the eighth Pan-American sanitary conference to be held at Lima, Peru, in October, 1927. The sanitary code, providing cooperative health measures for the Pan-American republics, which was indorsed by the delegates to this conference, will come up for ratification by the Latin-American nations at that conference. Reduction Reduction in Price!

ASTLY increased demand for Frigidaire—vastly increased production facilities—these things have made possible startling reductions in Frigidaire prices.

Today you can have genuine Frigidaire in your home at a cost lower than ever before. And you can pay for it on the convenient and economical terms of the General Motors deferred payment plan.

All Frigidaire prices are reduced. Mechanical units are as low as $170. Or you can cabinet Frigidaire for as little as

get a complete metal

Now as low as $170 f. o. b. Dayton

You need not discard your present ice-box. There is a Frigidaire mechanical unit priced as low as $170 f. o. b. Dayton, which will convert it into a genuine Frigidaire. And even this low price can be paid on the easiest of terms.

But remember-you can't expect to enjoy the dependability and economy and satisfaction of genuine Frigidaire unless your electric refrigerator is a genuine Frigidaire. No other electric refrigerator carries the backing and guarantee of General Motors. No other has the endorsement of 200,000 satisfied users. No other is a genuine Frigidaire.

Come in today and find out about the new low prices and easy purchase terms. Or mail the coupon for complete information.

It is such a comfortable addition to the living room, however, that its use is worth any little trouble to which its proper placing puts us.

The sofa group shown above illustrates one solution of the disposal of a sofa in the living room and variations of it, if ingeniously contrived, can be as successful. But all of this praiseworthy effort will be of little avail if we are lacking in correct posture and a graceful carriage—those two attributes of beauty that go hand in hand.

It is worth while to find out just how we rate in this matter of posture. Would you like to test yourself and find out "how you stand?" Here are two good tests, which measure you against a vertical line in front and in back. The first, or front wall test, is taken standing in front of a wall. Then place the hands horizontally, palms upward, fingertips together, against it and assume your natural position. Fold the right arm over the abdomen and the left one against the back, placing the left hand, palm outward, in the hollow of the back. There should be just you have passed the test. Velvet trimming is very smart it his year, and the old material does not have to match the new that you will buy to combine with it.

Use royal-blue wood crepe—just a shade or so lighter than your velvet—and make the dress that we have sketched here, using the velvet for applied points on the surplice overblouse and for godets on the skirt. If you are not slender, don't try to wear the velvet girdle, but it will be smart if you can stand a bit of bulk on the hip-line. Wear a small black felt hat—one of the high-crowned kind, of course—and black patent leather shoes. A black bag and your pearls will complete the costume.

The Tolerance of Good Taste.

The Tolerance of Good Taste.

The very first thing you notice about well-bred people is their fine tolerance. They do not try to force you to accept their politics, their religion, their opinions in general, on pain of being browbeaten out of your boots. They know one man's meat is another man's poison and one woman's wrong. If you like tea cold, your house hot, your slippers easy, and your creed hard, they are quite willing that you should suit yourself about it, as long as you do not insist upon their following your example. But the ill-bred are always insisting that what they think you must think because it is the only thing to think.

I once heard a beautiful old bishop reprove a grim, narrow-minded missionary—one of the kind, like the missionary in "Rain," who forced his stern rule upon gentle natives in tropical islands, He was railing against some custom of theirs, innocent in itself, which he had set himself to change, and the bishop said, "And don't your easily think, my friend, that the Lord sometimes allows for other customs, and listens to prayers in other languages than ourse."

I loved the bishop for saying it, but I think the missionary, creating the powers above in his own likeness, felt the speech to be that of a backslider from grace.

Of course, in politics, only the highly civilized allow each other any differences of opinion. The man in the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, And condition of agreement, And condition of agreement, and in the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the condition of agreement, and in the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight you into a condition of agreement, and the street will fight y endow many things oriental with at least a touch of mystery. The Celestial is nonunderstandable to Western minds—was it not our own Bill Nye who said that "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is peculiar"?

The Chow Chow From China

That seems an irrelevant way to begin an article on dogs, but it realy is not. For the chow chow comes from China and, true Oriental that he is, has his own mystery safely tucked away within his cobby, strangely shaped body. In this wise:

We know little or nothing of the chow's history, save that his breed is an old and respected one (617.7). The least of the use of computers. We know little or nothing of the chow's history, save that his breed is an old and respected one the Chinese. What were among the Chinese. What were his ancestors of many generations ago? Whence come that tail so strangely curved and flattened over the back, those straight hind legs, that tongue of blue instead of pink or red, those black eyes seeming to discount the theory of wolf blood flowing in his veins? Other dogs do not have them, nor is the chow's coat of fur instead of hair any help to us in clearing up the facts of his origin to us in clearing up the facts of his origin.

There is no little of the Oriental in his disposition, too. Where another dog might be openly friendly or hostile in the presence of strangers, the chow is prone to be merely standoffish. He will snift critically at your ankles, examine you with an air of silent analysis, and then steadfastly reserve judgment until you have proved yourself worthy.

Eight in 10 better-class women now employ "KOTEX"... a new way, 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Absorbs and deodorizes at the same time, thus ending ALL danger of offending.

You discard it as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. You ask for it without hesitancy, at any drug or department store, simply by saying "KOTEX."

In fairness to yourself, try this amazing way. Costs only a few cents. Comes twelve in a package.

It has been many weeks since we have especially ex-tolled the superlative virtues of a feature photoplay, but next week will view so extraordinary a camera-drama at the Metropolitan that the public deserves to know of its genuine distinction. Never has so master-ful a subject been so magnificently produced, acted and photographed. You will marvel at by a cast of a dozen stars, supported by a majestic en-semble of 25,000. The presentation will be embellished by "The Campers," a male quartet, assisted by one feminine artist in an atmospheric prologue.

Laurette Taylor and "Her Cardboard Lover," coming to Poli's theater for the week of October 4, will give Washington playgoers an opportunity of seeing a comedy wherein talents from three national stages have had a hand in its preparation for the American stage. The play is the work of Jacques Deval, who in the last few seasons has contributed no less than eight successes to the Paris stage. Next England entered the handling of the play through its adaptor, Miss Valerie Wyngate, well-known on the London stage; who plays an important role, also in Miss Taylor's support. Thirdly and most important of all, the American stage enters in through Miss Taylor, who gives the best of her-hrillant comedy abilities to an extremely amusing and sympathetic role.

"Her Cardboard Lover" tells the story of "Simone Massoubre," who, while wildy playing baccarat at Biarritz, finds it necessary to have besides a real lover, "Her Cardboard Lover." The arce of the play the proportion of the play entitled "So This Paris," on Wednesday Lon Chaney will be the pictured star of the Central's biltes to an extremely amusing and sympathetic role.

EXTERNAL SINKING FUND 6% GOLD BONDS

PUBLIC WORKS ISSUE OF OCTOBER 1, 1926

Credito Argentino 1926 Trabajos Publicos Emision de 1 de Octubre 1926

Interest payable April 1 and October 1

Redeemable through the operation of a cumulative Sinking Fund of 1% per annum, calculated to be sufficient to retire the Bonds of this issue at par not later than October 1, 1960.

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal only. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fine-

The following statement (in which all figures originally stated in Argentine currency have been converted into United States dollars at par of exchange for the gold peso or paper peso, as the case may be) has been signed in behalf of the Argentine Government by Felipe A. Espil, Esq., its Charge d'Affaires at Washington, D. C.

OBLIGATION These Bonds are to be direct external obligations of the Argentine Government. The Government will covenant therein that if, while any of these Bonds remain outstanding, it shall create or issue or guarantee in accordance with the Argentine Constitution, any loan or bonds secured by lien on any of its revenues or assets, the Bonds of this issue shall be secured equally and ratably with such other loan or bonds or such guaranty.

PURPOSE The Bonds are to be issued under authority of Law 11333, and, in accordance with the provisions of that Law, the proceeds of the issue will be used exclusively for the construction, extension and improvement of public works, including the Argentine State Railways.

GOVERNMENT
The total debt of the Argentine Government as of June 30, 1926, amounted to about $938,923,301, as compared with the national wealth, according to the census of 1914 (the ASSETS latest official figures), of $14,543,000,000. Government owned properties (including revenue producing investments of $530,000,000) had a total value in 1914, according to the same census, of $1,125,000,000, or about $186,000,000 more than the total government debt now outstanding.

THE ABOVE BONDS ARE OFFERED FOR SUBSCRIPTION, SUBJECT TO THE CONDITIONS STATED BELOW, AT 98 1/4 % AND ACCRUED INTEREST, TO YIELD OVER 6.10% TO MATURITY.

of New York, Fiscal Agents for the Bonds of the issue, without deduction for any Argentine taxes, present or future.

SINKING FUND The Government will covenant to pay to the Fiscal Agents as a Sinking Fund, beginning April 1, 1927, and thereafter semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 in each year, an amount equal to one-half of 1% of the greatest principal amount of Bonds of the issue at any time theretofore outstanding, plus an amount equal to the accrued and unpaid interest on all Bonds previously acquired through the operation of the Sinking Fund. Such Sinking Fund apyments (which may be increased by the Executive Power if considered advisable) are to be applied to the purchase of Bonds below par through tenders, or, if not so obtainable, to the redemption of Bonds, called by lot, at par.

CURRENCY

A gold reserve of $436,000,000 is held against note circulation equivalent to $561,000,000, resulting in a reserve ratio of over 77%. The Argentine paper peso is now quoted in New York at over 95% of par. Measures have been taken to prepare the way for a complete restoration of the gold standard which existed in the Argentine prior to 1914.

Subscription books will be opened at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. at 10 o'clock A. M., Thursday, September 30, 1926, and will be closed in their discretion. The right is reserved to reject any and all applications, and also, in any case, to award a smaller amount than applied for. All subscriptions will be received subject to the issue and delivery to us of the Bonds as planned.

The amounts due on allotments will be payable at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in New York funds to their order, and the date of payment (on. or about October 13, 1926) will be stated in the notices of allotment. Temporary Bonds, exchangeable for definitive Bonds when prepared, are to be

In the foreign exchange market sterling was firm in the face of a flood of cotton bills as a result of the staple's recent drop in price, and Belgian and French francs showed strength, both closing 3 points or so net higher, but lire yielded about 6 points. Hongkong cables and Shanghai taels again moved to new low records for recent years.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—The specter of higher imoney rates cast a shadow over today's curb market, which drifted lower after having signs of strength in the early trading. Brokers' traders reported that the constant discussion of an increase in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate and its probable of the market, leaving the prices, was temporarily scared small traders as temporarily scared small traders.

Oils, which have been sluggish lately as a result of gasoline price cuts, received another jolt by the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals holding the Sinclair lease on Teapot Dome invalid. While the decision did not directly involve any curb stock, it nevertheless had a tendency to restrict trading in those issues. Humble and Gulf each yielded about a point and most of the other active issues showed fractional recessions.

Industrials were mixed. Dupont (new) was bid up 3 points to a new record high at 169, but cancelled most of the strength of such specialties as Aluminum Co. of America, Brill Corporation, Mengel Co. and St. Regis Paper was offset by the heaviness of Banclialy Corporation, Kraft Cheese, New York Money Market. or its gain. Estey-Weite A touched a new high at 33% and the B at 11½.

Coal, motor and baking shares were aleavy. Borg & Beck soared over 20 Gen. Electric, new (3a) points to a new high at 50%, and the strength of such specialties as Aluminum Co. of America, Brill Corporation, Mengel Co. and St. Regis Paper was offset by the heaviness of Banch Laly Corporation, Kraft Cheese, New Jersey Zinc and Warner Pictures B.

Public utilities were mixed.

What's Behind

Boston and Maine

Railroad The Boston & Maine Railroad System, incorporated originally in 1835, now comprises approximately 1835, now comprises approximately 2,290 miles of owned, leased and controlled lines which serve New England north of a line which extends westward from Boston, excluding only the greater part of Maine. For many years the various lines of this railroad monopolized transportation facilities in the communities which were served, but since the advent of the motor car and truck the passenger and car and truck the passenger and freight business done by these lines has been cut into severely. Indeed the competition from automobiles undoubtedly had a good deal to do with the receivership in which the road was entered in 1916.

Since 1920, however, the company has recovered somewhat financially. The condition of equipment has been returned to normal. Some rate increases have been allowed and great strides have been made in cutting operating costs. Increased savings, it is expected, will be effected from the pected, will be effected from the use of new capital arising from the funds made available by an amend-ed reorganization plan approved in 1925. Improvement in the com-pany's financial condition may be shown from the fact that whereas a deficit of $1,401,769 was reported in 1921, net railway operating income totaled over $12,000,000 in 1925. No dividends, of course, have been paid on the Boston & Maine rallroad stock in recent years, since net earnings have not made this possible. (All rights reserved, Cambridge Associates, Boston.)

Not only have the Nats lost a number of well-paying dates, which have cost them thousands of dollars, but during the past two days old Jupiter Pluvius has connived with Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics to euchre the City for a trio of games, victories in which would have enabled it to beat out the Mackmen in the race. Connie Mack used his im-agination in calling off the dou-ble-header listed for Tuesday, thereby fixing it so that the best the Nats could get was a tie, while some real rain washed out this Eddie Rommel, Mackian hurler, has a pleasant week ahead of him. He will have his tonsils "bobbed" and is scheduled to take the ether Friday morning.

The Nationals yesterday met and decided how their fourth-place cut in the world's series money would be divided among them. Manager Harris did not attend the meeting, but previously told his players that any thing they decided upon would suit him. Of course, the details were not given out.

The Washington players were not the only ones disappointed at not being able to play any of the three games scheduled in Philadelphia. Quite a number of fans took the trip from the Capital City, includ-ing 21 of the "fair" sex.

Sanabar broke well and led the length. Water Baby was a like distance in front of Miss Relvue. The Code, favorite in the betting, ran a poor race in the sloppy going, and although prominent for the first quarter, gradually fell back until he was fifth at the finish.

Favorite players had their inning in the second race, when Hanky Rice, well-played choice, got down worth. Prince Theo was third, six lengths back.

Ten Sixty, who was making her Ten Sixty, who was making her first effort since the Bowie meeting last spring, scored over a field of platers in the third race, when she beat Margate out a head after a long, hard stretch drive. By JOHN J. M'GRAW,

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—To pick Had I been called on two weeks ing.

The difficulty a splitting out these two teams and analyzing their actual strength is due to their similarity in character. Both are what we call "socking clubs" and their success has depended largely on concentrating their hitting in one or two innings. The individual batting strength is so nearly the same, according to records, that it will be mostly a matter of getting in the last drive with plenty of points.

Had I been called on two weeks ago to select the winner I think I would have picked the Cardinals without hesitation. They were steadily fighting their way to the yearly dabout the outcome, were slowly dissipating their lead.

When it came to the pinch—the last drive—the Cardinals, though, also grew plainly nervended as much trouble squeezing through as did the Yanks. It is hard to base any opinion on such nervous reaction as that. Often I have seen ball clubs show nervousness and timidity in their final drive for a pennant and then go into a world's series with plenty of poise.

according to records, that it will be mostly a matter of getting in the first punch. Once either of them gets off on a broadside of hits no amount of good pitching can stop them.

As in all other series, it then comes down to a question of which set of pitchers can keep their grip longest. It's no disgrace to the best pitcher in the world to be knocked out by the Yanks or the Cardinals. Those fellows can do it, believe me.

Neither of these teams is what we know as a real smart ball club.

That is, a lead of one run is no particular advantage or handicap to them. When they make runs they

THAT famous old White Sox club of a few years ago was an example of the real smart club. Give these boys a one-run lead and they would play their cards so deft-ly that it would mean a victory. The Cardinals and Yanks are not of that type. They are sluggers rather than boxers.

The Yanks have a slight advantage in pitching strength, due to the number of men experienced in world's series affairs. They are not apt to be so nervous as the novices. Herb Pennock, Waite Hoyt, Dutch Ruether and Sam Jones all have been in world's series. Of the Cardinals, Grover Alexander is the only series veteran, and it has been eleven years since he had his chance.

Thave an idea that the Cardinals may select Alexander to pitch the first game purely on account of his steadiness and coolness. But for that I think the Cardinals would start a lefthander like Sherdel. After all, I don't think it will make a great deal of difference. It is quite a question as to whether the lefthanders will be better at the stadium or at St. Louis.

The Cardinals have a strong group of nitchers in Haines, Sher details at the Cardinals had one of those that the Cardinals had one of those that the Cardinals had one of those that the Cardinals had one of those the min weak at the right time they'll keep him down. But once he starts when the right time they'll keep him down. But once he starts—well, all pitchers are ucky in catching the the thit will meek at the right time they'll keep him down. But once he starts—well, all pitchers know what that means.

Nobody should know Hornsby better than Miller Huggins. Hornsby came to the Cardinals as a recruit when Huggins was manager. Huggins started his development.

The thing that baseball people as well as several other Washington teams. The Oriole doubles dany like that goes right on through the big series. It may be that the Washingtonians competing will be at distances from 16 to 22, yards.

The Cardinals have a strong group of pitchers in Haines, Sherdel, Alexander, Rhem and Reinhart. That staff pulled the club through to a pennant.

Among the regular players the Yanks have another slight advantage in experience. Ruth now is playing in his seventh world's series. Other veterans of the big fights are Meusel and Dugan.

Back in their stride.

It should also be remembered that the Cardinals had one of those batting bees in Phildelphia.

As I say, I am pulling for the Cardinals and for that reason have a hunch that they will win. Still, there is not enough difference between these two clubs for either to be a favorite in betting. It looks very even. It should be a corking fight and one that will give the fans the best hitting thrill they have had

IN the infield, however, the Yanks have two brand new youngsters at second and short—Lazzeri and Koenigagainst the old reliable Rogers Hornsby and Thevenow, who is a fielding artist. Much will denote the production of the produc pend upon the machinelike work around second base. Ner-vousness of either side at that point may prove fatal.

In catching, the Cardinals have a decided advantage in Bob O'Farrell. His steady, clocklike work back there most of the season has been a big factor in St. Louis' winning the pennant. We always had difficulty in running on him. But as the Yanks are not by nature a base-running club that may not affect them. The Yanks would have been unusually strong in catchers, but for the accident to Benny Bengough. He was just at the top of his form when his arm was broken. This leaves the catching to Pat Collins and Hank Severeid, one a state of the saturday will draw an attendance second only to the antucal classic of the State, the South Carolina-Clemson melee of fair week, which attracts 12,000 or more paid admissions yearly.

POST'S BOARD TO DEPICT SERIES

Old Reliable to Show All Plays of Classic; Amplifiers Also.

WASHINGTON'S baseball champions of 1924-25 pions of 1924-25 have resigned from the world's series this season in favor of The Washington Post, which will play each and every game of the base-ball classic on its magnetic score-board in front of The Post buildyoungster and the other a veterar

The games, starting Saturday, will be depicted in every detail by The Post's near-human board, which virtually transfers the scene of action to its watchers. The plays will he flashed on the board almost the same moment that they are executed on the diamonds of the Yankee stadium in New York and Sportsmen's park in St. Louis.

Expert manipulators of the board will be in charge and direct wire to the pall park will flash the playby-play story of the games.

THE shining little silver ball which traces movement for movement the actual handling of the plays by the big leaguers is ready to convey to the Washington pub-lic the exact performance of each stolen base, sacrifice or error and the other happenings that go to make up a ball

This complete service will be augmented by the presence of radio apparatus which will amplify the games as broadcast from the ball parks by WRC.

The Post's board will be on time. The game Saturday starts at 1:30 p. m. and the Sunday contest will begin at 2 p. m. Be on hand early for choice positions. No seats re-

State Teachers; Thompson and Arnold are graduates of North Dakota; Bukowy was developed by the marines.

Keady has in reserve what he calls a "whippet" backfield. This quartet numbers Ryan, from South Dakota; Levey, Smith and Rickman, the latter trio recruited from the ranks.

The King college squad will entrain this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, It will arrive in Washington tomorrow morning and will be quartered at the Lee Ryuse. The team will hold a limbering of the call before the Senators, who won Washington's first pennant in 1924 and repeated last year. These first-year managers surely have written baseball history in "letters of fire," as Stallings would say.

To describe the costly extra process which lifts Luckies out of the ordinary would take a volume of technical description.

But you can get the results instantly because in a Lucky Strike you'll find the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos properly aged, perfectly blended -and something more.

You'll realize that there is something about them which gives them dis-All because of an extra process-toasting.

When you smoke Luckies, you'll find:

1. Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.

3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

Thus the toasting process is an addition. It adds a unique and distinct improvement to a cigarette that has already been made from the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco. It is the reason millions prefer Lucky Strikes.

Chicago, Sept. 29 (By A. P.).—Active buying, together with waning of pressure to sell, gave a deolded lift today to the wheat market here. Signs pointed to probable nearly all-around scaling down of crop estimates in Europe. Closing quotations on wheat were strong, 1½ cents to 2½ cents net higher. Corn finished % cent to 2½ cents up, oats showing % cent to ½ cents up, oats showing % cent to % cent advance, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 37 cents. RULE, SAYS COLLINS

No Serious Efforts to Buy Locations, Mississippi Representative Believes.

COMMITTEE IS STRONG FOR 25 PER CENT LIMIT

Desirable Property Underas sessed or Exorbitantly Priced, He Says.

The House supcommittee on District appropriations is not likely to remove the 25 per cent limitation on the purchase of school atten, Representative Collins, of Mississippi ranking minority member, said yesterday.

Under provisions of the current appropriation bill the commissioners are restricted from paying more than 25 per cent above the assesse valuation for school properties, and as a result not one site has been acquired with funds made available.

There will be no relief at the next There will be no relief at the next session of Congress, however, in Collins' opinion. He expressed the belief no serious efforts are being made to buy sites. The subcommittee of which he is a member feels strongly on the matter, he made known, and expressed the belief it would not countenance removal of the restriction and consequently permitting payments far in excess of the assessed valuation.

If local property owners are willing to let the situation go on, he said, he will propose that the Federal gov-ernment's proportion be returned. He made a similar proposal at the last session when complaints were expressed against the limitation.

Talks With Donovan.

Collins said he was willing to let the local government pay whatever it wanted for the sites, provided that a third of the amount paid in excess of the assessed relation.

that a third of the amount paid in excess of the assessed valuation plus 25 per cent be returned to the Federal government. It is estimated the $9,000,000 Federal contribution is at a ratio of 1 to 3.

District Auditor Daniel J. Donovan discussed the situation with Collins yesterday. He explained the commissioners had been able to acquire a site only for the Tenleytown police station.

Explaining he had returned to Washington early to place his children in school, Collins declared this certainly showed he has an interest in local schools. But the school situation is one that will bear careful study, he asserted. He expressed the belief that portable schools against which there has been considerable criticism are "propaganda" schools. ganda" schools.

Further hearings on the application of the Washington Rapid Transit Co. for increased motor bus fares were postponed yesterday until after October 12, on request of the company, because of the absence of its counsel from the city.

The War Department transmitted to the public utilities commission its approval of the application of Thomas W. Cushing and X. King Richardson for permission to operate a motorbus line from Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest to Great Falls, Md., over street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest to Great Falls, Md., over Conduit road. The Washington Railway & Ellectric Co. has object-ed. The commission has not yet decided whether to issue the per-mit.

One Highway Bridge Repair Bid Received

Only one bid was received at the District building yesterday for repairs to the swinging span of Highway bridge. It was submitted by the Bethlehem Steel Co., which offered to do the work at cost plus 15 per cent. It is estimated that the expense will be around $5,000. Bids on the direct price basis were solicited some time ago and none was received. The commissioners then saked Congress to authorise advertising on the cast plus plan. The authority was granted.
